

All Polish collector coins feature:

- face value
- image of the Eagle established as the state emblem of the Republic of Poland
- inscription: Rzeczpospolita Polska
- year of issue

Issuing collector items is an occasion to commemorate important historic figures and anniversaries, as well as to develop the interest of the public in Polish culture, science, and tradition.

Information on the issue schedule can be found at the www.nbp.pl/money website.

Should you have any questions, please contact our consultants at the following phone numbers: +48 22 185 91 59 and +48 22 185 13 03.

Collector coins issued by NBP are sold at NBP regional branches and in the NBP online shop.

On 11 June 2019 Narodowy Bank Polski will be putting into circulation a silver collector coin of the series "Great Actresses" – Helena Modrzejewska, with a face value of 20 zł.

Narodowy Bank Polski is the central bank of the State, responsible for its monetary policy and price stability. The Bank's functions are described in the Constitution of the Republic of Poland and the Act on NBP. NBP holds the exclusive right to issue the currency of the Republic of Poland. As the central bank, it does not provide accounts for the general public, accept deposits from or extend loans to individuals. It acts as a banker to the State budget and public sector entities. NBP also holds and manages the foreign exchange reserves of the State. Finally, it functions as a banker to banks, creating conditions for the operation of the Polish banking system. Narodowy Bank Polski is one of the most important research and analytical centres in the fields of economics and financial markets. For more information on NBP visit: www.nbp.pl

Narodowy Bank Polski

We protect the value of money

NBP

Narodowy Bank Polski

420th Anniversary of the Birth of Hetman Stefan Czarniecki

Collector coins

420th Anniversary of the Birth of Hetman Stefan Czarniecki

Stefan Czarniecki, of the Łódzia coat of arms, was most likely born in the family estate of Czarnca in the Chęciny County in 1599. The exact date of his birth is not known. This is not surprising as the future field hetman of the Polish Crown, victor of the Muscovites and the Swedes, came from the so-called middle nobility. His family was not significant enough for the birth of the subsequent children to capture the attention of its contemporaries. As a result Czarniecki had to earn his place in the history books on his own.

Stefan Czarniecki chose a career in the army early on, and starting from 1626 he fought against the Swedes, the Russians and the Cossacks. His military talent was recognized – in 1651 he was already commanding a hetman's regiment, and a year later he was promoted to the position of the crown camp leader. In the subsequent years, he was entrusted with the command of independent army divisions that were sent to Ukraine to fight against the Cossacks. However, he gained real fame during the Swedish Deluge. As the only higher-ranked Crown commander, he remained loyal to King John Casimir Vasa, for whom he bravely defended Kraków in the autumn of 1655. After the king returned to the country, Czarniecki was appointed an army commander in the rank of army leader.

He successfully waged war against the Swedes, employing “hit and run” tactics, and in 1657 he defeated the army of George II Rákóczi, the prince of Transylvania who was allied with the Swedes. He achieved further victories one year later, when he was sent to Denmark as the commander of reinforcements for the anti-Swedish coalition. After returning to Poland, he led the campaign against the Russians in Lithuania, defeating them in the battle of Połonka, and forcing them to retreat to the country's eastern frontiers (1660). One year later, he crushed the Russians again in the battle of Kuszliki.

The image of Stefan Czarniecki was produced according to a portrait by Brodero Matthisen from the collection of the Royal Castle in Warsaw.

During the period of military confederations (1661-1663), he remained loyal to the king, supporting the planned election reforms and fighting against the pro-Muscovite Cossacks. In recognition of his merit, near the end of his life he was promoted to the office of the field crown hetman (1665). He was also a senator as the castellan of Kiev (1655), and then the voivode of Ruthenia (1657) and of Kiev (1664). For the subsequent generations he became

On 29 May 2019 Narodowy Bank Polski is putting into circulation a gold collector coin with a face value of 200 zł and a silver collector coin with a face value of 10 zł – “420th Anniversary of the Birth of Hetman Stefan Czarniecki”.

Face value 200 zł

Metal: Au 900/1000

Finish: proof

Diameter: 27.00 mm

Weight: 15.50 g

Edge: plain

Mintage: up to 1,500 pcs

Face value 10 zł

Metal: Ag 925/1000

Finish: proof (high relief)

Dimensions: 32.00 mm

Weight: 31.10 g

Edge: plain

Mintage: up to 15,000 pcs

Designer: Dobrochna Surajewska

Issuer: NBP

The coins, commissioned by NBP, were struck by Mennica Polska S.A.

a symbol of a soldier and a patriot whose name was immortalized in Dąbrowski's Mazurka.

The reverse of the gold coin features the image of hetman Stefan Czarniecki, below there is a fragment of a panoply – a decorative motif combining the elements of armour, banners and pennants. The obverse depicts a fragment of the panoply and the baton of hetman Stefan Czarniecki.

The reverse of the silver coin carries the image of hetman Stefan Czarniecki, with the hetman's sign in the background. On the obverse there is a fragment of the mantling (a vegetal ornament) of the heraldic shield of the Hetman Stefan Czarniecki's family line – Łódzia.

Dariusz Milewski